Follow Me: Entering Lent with ‘Great Hope’

Bishop Terry R. LaValley offers his reflections on this Lenten season:

In his Lenten Message this year, the Holy Father writes: “We need to pray because we need God. Thinking that we need nothing other than ourselves is a dangerous illusion...no one attains salvation alone...we are all in the same boat, amid the storms of history.” There can be no serious doubt in anyone’s mind, we are now living in one such storm and it’s been a whopper!

Let us all examine our prayer life as we enter Lent 2022. Prayer is our lifeline with Jesus. Daily, disciplined prayer fuels our faith and sustains our hope for tomorrow.

Pope: Do good, ditch digital addictions this Lent

VATICAN CITY (CNS) – Christians must persevere in generously doing good in the world, bolstered by prayer and by fighting evil in their own lives, including an addiction to digital media, Pope Francis said.

“Lent is a propitious time to resist these temptations and to cultivate instead a more integral form of human communication made up of ‘authentic encounters’ – face-to-face and in person,” the pope said in his message for Lent, which begins March 2 for Latin-rite Catholics.

“Let us ask God to give us the patient perseverance of the farmer and to persevere in doing good, one step at a time,” and to know that “the soil is prepared by fasting, watered by prayer and enriched by charity,” the pope wrote. Released by the Vatican Feb. 24, the pope’s Lenten message was titled, “Let us not grow tired of doing good, for in due time we shall reap our harvest if we do not give up. So then, while we have the opportunity, let us do good to all,” which is from St. Paul’s Letter to the Galatians.

Christians are called to sow goodness their entire lives, but even more so during Lent, he wrote. The first fruit “appears in ourselves and our daily lives,” radiating the light of Christ to the world, he wrote. And sowing goodness “for the benefit of others frees us from narrow self-interest, infuses our actions with gratuitousness and makes us part of the magnificent horizon of God’s benevolent plan.” Christians must not grow tired of praying, he wrote. “We need to pray because we need God. Thinking that we need nothing other than ourselves is a dangerous illusion.”

“Let us not grow tired of uprooting evil from our lives,” he added, underlining the importance of fasting and asking for forgiveness in the sacrament of penance and reconciliation.
A flair for the dramatic

If you haven’t noticed, I can be a bit dramatic sometimes. Earlier this week, I was in complete Darcy drama mode as I discussed some personal problems with a friend. I was lamenting the fact that I haven’t progressed as much as I hoped in various aspects of my life, including and especially my spiritual life.

“I feel like I should be better than this by now,” I said.

My friend’s response was a complete punch in the gut. “It seems like you always want to be anywhere other than where you are,” she said. “Is there a reason you can’t just be here and accept that this is part of the process? Have you considered that you might be where you’re supposed to be?”

“Oh, was the only word I could muster.

Her comment hurt because it was a truth I wasn’t prepared to acknowledge in that moment. Being where I’m supposed to be hadn’t crossed my mind. It certainly did after my friend said it.

It can be frustrating sometimes when progress isn’t linear. I find that to be especially true as I try to follow God’s call and work with Him to improve and overcome the barriers I construct to separate myself from Him – my sinfulness, my habits, my personality defects.

For a time, I feel like I’m making great progress. I try hard to be open to the strength and grace God makes freely available to me. Then something happens (or nothing happens), and I fall back into my old self-reliance, sinfulness or struggle, and I beat myself up for it.

I feel like I take two steps forward, one step back. Sometimes, I go straight back to the beginning. It can be maddening.

“Have you considered that you might be where you’re supposed to be?”

I believe that God loves me. I believe God wants to help me overcome those barriers and draw me closer to Him.

I sometimes need reminders, though, that He’s doing that in His way and on His time. I need reminders that I learn and grow through these setbacks and struggles. I need reminders that I might be where I’m supposed to be.

Luckily, God always gives me what I need, and He puts me where I need to be.

And God knows I sometimes need the lessons to be dramatic, too.

Grateful for priesthood, Eucharist

I like Lent. Each year I realize that I need a Lenten Retreat. This year, my Lenten dedication is my gratitude to my Lord, especially for my priesthood. So this year my plan is to offer my Lenten prayers and penitential sacrifices as my act of gratitude that God chose me to be a priest and that I have had a lifetime to celebrate the Blessed Eucharist through the Holy Mass.

I have written often of how important the Blessed Eucharist has been to me and to my priesthood. I love celebrating Mass, and that the reception of Holy Communion has been an important part of my Catholic spirituality. I remember that even when I have been in the hospital for an operation, although it was only a short time, I found unique strength and spiritual power when a lay Eucharistic Minister of Communion brought Holy Communion to me.

I want to share with you that I discovered as a seminarian the joy of praying silently in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, the Blessed Eucharist reserved in the tabernacle in the chapel or in the Church. I have discovered that I do not need any words. It’s about just being present to the Lord and allowing my Savior to enter my life and become part of my very being. It is a transforming moment, being with the Lord, my God.

Let me also tell you how I appreciate the many opportunities as a pastor when I have brought the Blessed Eucharist to the homebound sick, to those who were in the hospital or to the dying as I bring to them the Anointing of the Sick. I have found a certain peace and even power when carrying the Eucharist with me as I travel around visiting the sick.

During Lent, as a community, we all remember and celebrate the Blessed Eucharist in a special way on the feast of Holy Thursday as we celebrate the Mass that remember the Last Supper. In faith, we believe that at that Last Supper, Jesus instituted the Blessed Eucharist. Each time I celebrate Mass as a priest, I say the very same words that Jesus used at the Last Supper as He instituted the Blessed Eucharist.

Eucharist – the very word means Thanksgiving, gratitude. Each time I celebrate Mass, I can express my gratitude for the incarnation of Our Lord Jesus, my Lord and Savior. Jesus was born in Bethlehem to become one of us. Jesus lived among us. Jesus taught us and led us to be his disciples, to be his saints. Jesus died for us. Jesus rose again to new life, his resurrection. This Jesus instituted the Blessed Eucharist, and through this sacrament, through our Holy Mass, the Lord remains with us for all time. We believe that the Lord Jesus lives and touches our lives with his loving and healing power, transforming each one of us to live good and happy lives through the life and power of the Blessed Eucharist.

So, Lent becomes each year a unique opportunity for me to make a retreat. It’s a special time of prayer and fasting, a time of reconciliation to unite my life with that of the Lord Jesus through the Blessed Eucharist.

This is a special time when I can celebrate the importance of the Eucharist in my priesthood and my life as a priest.
Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

In his Lenten Message this year, the Holy Father writes: “We need to pray because we need God. Thinking that we need nothing other than ourselves is a dangerous illusion...no one attains salvation alone...we are all in the same boat, amid the storms of history.” There can be no serious doubt in anyone’s mind, we are now living in one such storm and it’s been a whopper!

Let us all examine our prayer life as we enter Lent 2022. Prayer is our lifeline with Jesus. Daily, disciplined prayer fuels our faith and sustains our hope for tomorrow. Pope Francis tells us that “faith does not spare us life’s burdens and tribulations, but it does allow us to face them in union with God in Christ, with the great hope that does not disappoint.”

This “great hope” to which the Pope refers is rooted in Jesus’ sacrificial love. St. Mother Teresa wrote that the Eucharist is intimately related to the Passion. She stated, “If Jesus had not established the Eucharist, we would have forgotten the crucifixion. It would have faded into the past and we would have forgotten the depth and breadth of Jesus’ love for each one of us. To make sure we do not forget, Jesus gave us the Eucharist as a memorial of His love.”

The premier prayer of the Church is the Eucharist. It is the identifying feature of Catholicism. Our parishes, our faith families, are schools of prayer that are centered around the Mass. As you know, we have begun an initiative, a Eucharistic Revival, to help us rediscover the beauty of the Eucharist and strengthen our belief in the Real Presence of Christ at Mass.

For many months (now years), the pandemic has adversely affected our Eucharistic worship. In many circumstances, our participation at Mass has waned. We risk “forgetting” the significance of the Eucharist. Please continue to encourage your family members to return to the Eucharist to be nourished with the sacramental food for the journey.

Avail yourself of the opportunities your parish provides you to participate in our Eucharistic Revival efforts and special Lenten programs and devotions that will enhance our discipleship outside the walls of our churches.

Let us seek the intercession of Mary, Our Lady of Hope and Mother of the Eucharist, in our Lenten efforts to draw closer to Jesus and His Body, the Church. God’s blessings and prayers for a fruitful Lent for you and your loved ones!

Faithfully yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Terry R. LaValley
Bishop of Ogdensburg

March 2 is Ash Wednesday, which marks the beginning of Lent.

ABSTINENCE

All Catholics who have reached their 14th birthday are bound to abstain totally from meat on the following days: Ash Wednesday, Fridays of Lent, and Good Friday.

Note: This year, the Solemnity of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary (March 25) falls on a Friday of Lent. Abstinence from meat is not required on solemnities according to Canon 1251.

FASTING

All Catholics between the ages of 18 and 59 are bound also to observe the Law of Fast on the following days: Ash Wednesday (March 2) and Good Friday (April 15). Fasting, that is, eating less, involves limiting oneself to a single full meal and avoiding food between meals. Lighter nourishment may be taken on two other occasions in the course of the day.

PRAYER AND Penance

The entire season of Lent should be observed in a spirit of prayer and penance. Spending extra time in prayer or Bible study, attending daily Mass, voluntary sacrifice and self-denial, combined with works of charity and service to others, are all excellent ways to obey the Lord’s command to reform our lives and to prepare for the joyful celebration of Easter. Parishes are highly encouraged to offer periods of Eucharistic Adoration during the Lenten Season, as well as the traditional devotions of the Stations of the Cross and the recitation of the Rosary.

SACRAMENT OF PENANCE

Parishes throughout the Diocese are encouraged to offer increased opportunities for the Sacrament of penance. Hopefully parishes will be able to return to their pre-pandemic practices of Penance Services or continue offering different times for confessions (e.g., after a weekday evening Mass or with a Day of Mercy with confessions throughout the day).

Priests who are elderly and/or with compromised immune systems are encouraged to reach out to neighboring priests for assistance covering hours of confession. In addition, other occasions for the Sacrament of penance should be made available during the Lenten Season and the Sacred Triduum.

What is a Foster Grandparent?

Foster Grandparents are role models, mentors, and friends to children with exceptional needs. The program provides a way for volunteers age 55 and over to stay active by serving children and youth in their communities. They are placed in a classroom setting with a child or children who are in need of emotional support, development of basic learning skills, friendship, companionship, encouragement, individual attention, and unhurried help. The program currently has 40 volunteers and serves more than 100 kids per year.

The Foster Grandparent Program is hosted by the Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Ogdensburg and supported by AmeriCorps Seniors, a federally funded agency responsible for building volunteer based programs for over 50 years and counting.

Registration open for Camp Guggenheim

By Darcy Fargo
Editor

SARANAC LAKE – After a two-year hiatus due to the pandemic, the diocese plans to open the doors of Camp Guggenheim to regular youth camp sessions in 2022.

“We’re both excited and hopeful,” said Tom Semeraro, diocesan director of Youth Ministry. “We’re looking to pick up where we left off before the pandemic, and we’re hoping to have some exciting additions to camp life this year.”

Registration is now open for the 2022 camp season, and staff is being recruited. For both employment and registration information, visit rcdony.org/youth/camp.

This year, camp will open for the first session on July 3. Each session runs from Sunday to Friday. The first five weeks of sessions are for youth ages 12 to 15, while the last week, Aug. 7 to Aug. 12, is for youth ages 16 to 18.

As in previous years, campers spend each morning at one of the four main program areas – Waterfront, Arts and Crafts, Project Adventure and Liturgy. Campers experience each of the four programs in the course of the week, rotating through one per day. Later in the day, camp experiences include opportunities for prayer and Mass, as well as kayaking, hiking, playing sports and games, going on camping excursions, swimming and rappelling. Nighttime offerings include campfires, adventure games, a variety show and Guggenheim Olympics. Campers also have the opportunity to experience forgiveness in the sacrament of reconciliation during their time at camp.

Semeraro noted that Camp Guggenheim will follow all federal and state COVID-related guidelines in effect when camp is in session.

This year, camp will cost $375. Scholarships are available, and information about those scholarships can be found on the camp registration page at rcdony.org/youth/camp.

Camp to celebrate 50th anniversary

By Darcy Fargo
Editor

SARANAC LAKE – Camp Guggenheim campers, alumni, families, supporters and potential future campers, get ready to celebrate and experience camp in honor of its 50th anniversary.

“Camp Guggenheim is celebrating its 50th anniversary,” said Kelly D’Souza, former camp director/Youth Ministry director for the diocese and member of the anniversary planning committee. “We’re planning a celebration on Memorial Day weekend. We’re still finalizing the plans, but we’re encouraging people with connections to camp or who are interested in learning more about camp to mark May 28 on their calendars.”

D’Souza said the celebration was designed to include something for everyone with a connection to camp, including current and former campers and staff and their family members, as well as those who have never experienced camp.

“On that Saturday, we’ll have Mass with the bishop, a ticketed barbecue lunch and camp activities – volleyball, prayer experience, project adventure and tours,” she said. “We’re looking at possibly putting together a scavenger hunt so people who have been away for years can see the changes that have been made to the facility.”

The event will also include recognition of Father Arthur J. LaBaff, who is credited with establishing the youth camp back in 1972.

The celebration of Camp Guggenheim’s 50th anniversary is part of the celebration of the Diocese of Ogdensburg’s 150th anniversary. The diocese was officially created on Feb. 16, 1872.

Pre-registration will be required for the event, and more details, including registration information, will be released in coming weeks.

In addition to the Saturday event, organizers are hoping to kick the weekend off with a small work bee at the camp on Thursday, May 26. Then, camp staff alumni are invited to gather at the facility on Friday for a reunion and to make final preparations for the Saturday event. Staff alumni will also stay through to Sunday, when they’ll clean up after the event, enjoy Mass together and say goodbyes.

Throughout the weekend, photos and memorabilia from previous camp sessions will be on display.

“So many generations have connections to camp,” D’Souza noted. “We’re excited to celebrate those connections to camp, to one another and to Christ.”

For more information about Camp Guggenheim, visit rcdony.org/youth/camp. More information about the 50th anniversary celebration will be posted at the diocesan 150th celebration page, 150.rcdony.org, as it becomes available.

Environmental Stewardship

‘...Not your garments’

As we enter into Ash Wednesday today, we hear the words of Jesus tell us “Rend your hearts, not your garments.”

Lent is meant to be a springtime for our souls. As any gardener will tell you, you need to tend to the soil and prepare it for the seed. It seems that Jesus is telling us that we need to tend to our hearts in order to receive the Word of God, tend to the needs of our heart not just the externals of our lives.

Lent gives us the tools for the preparing of the soil of our hearts found in Matthew 6:1-6: prayer, fasting and almsgiving.

Taking some quiet moments with the Lord is essential for our relationship with the Lord to deepen. Only when we take time to listen to our hearts will we know the love God has for us. Only then can we become ambassadors of that love in our daily encounters and actions, as St. Paul calls us to be in Corinthians 5:20-21 in the second reading of today.

Most of us shy away from the notion of fasting.

Why would anyone want to deprive themselves of anything that is good in itself? No one does unless they are simply masochistic.

However, if fasting focuses not on what I am fasting from but what I want to feast on, then it takes on a whole different meaning.

What if fasting is for my own wellbeing? What if it is for others’ wellbeing? What if it is for the wellbeing of the earth?

The third tool of almsgiving includes more than financial funds. While that is important, it can challenge us to open our hearts and change the way we are living. Becoming more aware of our consumption of the resources of the earth that are meant for the use of all the members of the human family can challenge us to change our patterns of living.

Spend some quiet time with the Lord this week to listen what your heart needs this Lent to be His ambassador of love.
Catholic Relief Services (CRS) invites Catholics across the country to pray, fast and give through its annual Lenten program CRS Rice Bowl, which begins in March alongside the season. CRS Rice Bowl is an important part of CRS’ mission to serve Catholics in the United States as they live their faith in solidarity with their sisters and brothers around the world.

By using CRS Rice Bowl materials, families and educators can teach children about the season of Lent, Jesus’ sacrifice and about how they can help their sisters and brothers around the world while living out their faith. As part of the Rice Bowl program, 75% of all donations go to CRS programming in targeted countries. CRS Rice Bowl participants also have access to meatless Lenten recipes from different countries along with other resources for Holy Week, including the Stations of the Cross. CRS will also host virtual events throughout the Lenten season, including prayer nights in Spanish and English.

Each year, CRS Rice Bowl features the stories of families from three different countries in order to bring U.S. Catholics closer to those they help through their Rice Bowl donations. For 2022, CRS Rice Bowl has identified families from Rwanda, Guatemala and Bangladesh. Through their stories, Rice Bowl participants are invited to learn how people in these countries overcome the factors that can lead to hunger, including flooding and drought.

WHAT IS THE MEANING OF LENT?
As Catholics, the spiritual pillars of prayer, fasting and almsgiving guide us in daily reflection in our own lives as we strive to deepen our relationship with God and neighbor—no matter where in the world that neighbor may live. Lent is a time of personal and spiritual growth, a time to look outward and inward. It is a journey in mercy.

LENTEN ALMS CHANGE LIVES
CRS Rice Bowl is the Lenten program of Catholic Relief Services, the official relief and development agency of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. Through CRS Rice Bowl, faith communities in dioceses throughout the United States put their faith into action through prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Lenten alms donated through CRS Rice Bowl support the work of CRS in more than 100 different countries each year. Twenty-five percent of donations to CRS Rice Bowl stay in the local diocese, supporting hunger and poverty alleviation efforts. Since its inception in 1975, CRS Rice Bowl has raised nearly $300 million.

25% of all donations to CRS Rice Bowl stay in our local diocese, supporting hunger and poverty alleviation efforts.

Bishops unite behind Ukraine

WASHINGTON (CNS) — For some U.S. prelates, such as Bishop Robert J. Brennan of Brooklyn, New York, the Feb. 24 news of Russia's invasion of Ukraine hit close to home.

As he began the homily for the first Mass of the day at the Co-Cathedral of St. Joseph in Prospect Heights in Brooklyn, Ukraine was on his mind. He offered the day’s prayers, not only for those in Ukraine, he said, but also "for people from our own diocese here in Brooklyn, from the Ukrainian community, we join with them."

U.S. bishops, like much of the world, focused on the East European nation Feb. 24. Some condemned the actions of Russia, others expressed worry about the consequences on civilians and what the future brings. Though messages differed, they seemed to be largely united behind Ukraine.

Archbishop José H. Gomez of Los Angeles, president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, in a Feb. 24 statement on behalf of the country’s bishops, encouraged Catholics to join Pope Francis’ call to prayer and fasting to bring an end to the conflict.

"In times of trouble, we call on the tender mercy of God … to guide our feet to the way of peace," he said, recalling words from the Gospel of Luke. "May our prayers, joined with those of people around the world, help guide those waging war to end the meaningless suffering and restore peace. Our Lady, Queen of Peace, pray for us."

On March 2, Ash Wednesday, most dioceses will take up the USCCB's Collection for the Church in Central and Eastern Europe, which includes Ukraine.

By and large, prelates took to Twitter to express themselves.

"Let us pray for the people of Ukraine as the guns of war approach," tweeted Bishop Joseph E. Strickland of Tyler, Texas. "Men, women, children and families will suffer as this unfolds and most will be powerless. Let us pray that their neighbors will support them and that this violence will end quickly. Let us pray."

Like Bishop Strickland, some conveyed their concerns for the well-being of civilians; others offered solidarity; and some seemed to condemn Russian President Vladimir Putin’s actions.

"Pray for peace in Ukraine. Pray for the conversion of leaders that abuse people’s rights," tweeted Archbishop Gustavo García-Siller of San Antonio. "There are individuals that are about control and sickness. Let’s pray for them too. A rosary helps.

"Like Bishop Strickland, some conveyed their concerns for the well-being of civilians; others offered solidarity; and some seemed to condemn Russian President Vladimir Putin’s actions."

Bishop Joseph C. Bambera of Scranton, Pennsylvania, spoke of Ukrainians as they "confront forces that challenge their freedom, security and peace.

Bishop Michael J. Sis of San Angelo, Texas, called for the respect of human rights, as well as for Ukrainians as they "see their homeland become a war zone," he tweeted.

Bishop Paul J. Bradley of Kalamazoo, Michigan, tweeted that as the world awakened to the reality of war, "may the world truly ‘awaken’ to the evil of all war, and the sinfulness of violent aggression."

Some, like Auxiliary Bishop Mark W. O’Connell of Boston, retweeted a poignant screenshot of a group kneeling in prayer on a street in Ukraine after being invaded by Russia.

"I join my prayers to the prayers of the people of Ukraine,” the bishop tweeted above the image.

Almost all directed their dioceses to the Catholic Church’s teachings on peace.

Cardinal Joseph W. Tobin of Newark, New Jersey, said that "we must always reject war as a political solution and propose honest and respectful dialogue among nations as the only way forward."

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich of Chicago tweeted that he had requested prayers for peace in Ukraine be added to all Masses in the Illinois archdiocese.

"Most of us know war in Europe from the stories of our parents and grandparents, from history portrayed in films and books," he said. "This attack on a peaceful, sovereign nation is a sad reminder that the work of peace is never over.

"Please pray with me for the safety of all now under fire and for those in other nations fearful the war in Ukraine may overspread their borders."

In Philadelphia, on behalf of everyone in the archdiocese, Archbishop Nelson J. Pérez expressed "our firm solidarity with Ukrainian Catholics and Ukrainians here in the Philadelphia region and in Ukraine itself.

He conveyed those sentiments to Metropolitan Archbishop Borys Gudziak, head of the Ukrainian Catholic Archeparchy of Philadelphia.

"Like so many of you, my heart aches with deep sorrow," said Archbishop Pérez, noting the world hoped and prayed the Russian invasion would be avoided.

Researchers: 5.2 million children orphaned during pandemic

CLEVELAND (CNS) — An estimated 5.2 million children in 21 countries, including the United States, lost at least one parent, a custodial grandparent or a primary caregiver to COVID-19 during the first 20 months of the pandemic, social researchers and child well-being advocates said in a new study. Notably, the researchers estimated that the number of children orphaned because of the pandemic nearly doubled during the six-month period ending Oct. 31, 2021, a period corresponding largely with the surge in the delta variant of the coronavirus. The total number of orphaned children during the study period parallels the roughly 5 million COVID-19-caused deaths during the same time frame, the study said.

"This finding means that, globally, for every one reported COVID-19 death, at least one child experienced orphanhood or caregiver death," the researchers concluded. The study was published online Feb. 24 by the British medical journal The Lancet. The study defined orphanhood as the death of one or both parents, one or both custodial grandparents, or a primary caregiver.

Pope called for day of prayer, fasting for peace in Ukraine

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — As the threat of war looms over the world, Pope Francis called on people to pray and fast for peace in Ukraine on Ash Wednesday. Before concluding his general audience Feb. 23, the pope called on believers and nonbelievers to combat the “diabolical insistence, the diabolical senselessness of violence” with prayer and fasting. “I invite everyone to make March 2, Ash Wednesday, a day of fasting for peace,” he said. “I encourage believers in a special way to devote themselves intensely to prayer and fasting on that day. May the Queen of Peace protect the world from the folly of war.” In his appeal, the pope said he, like many around the world, felt “anguish and concern” after Russian President Vladimir Putin recognized the independence of the eastern Ukrainian regions of Donestk and Luhansk. The pope said that due to the “alarming” developments in the region, “once again, the peace of all is threatened by partisan interests.” “I would like to appeal to those with political responsibilities to do a serious examination of conscience before God, who is the God of peace and not of war, who is the father of all and not only of some, who wants us to be brothers and sisters and not enemies,” he said.

Pope ordered to rest knee, cancels participation in two events

VATICAN CITY (CNS) — Pope Francis will not be attending two scheduled public events so he can rest a painful knee, the Vatican said. The pope will not be going to Florence Feb. 27, and he will not preside over Ash Wednesday Mass March 2, the Vatican announced Feb. 25. The pope will be absent from these events “because of severe knee pain, for which the doctor prescribed a period of more rest for his leg,” said a communiqué from the Vatican press office. The pope had been scheduled to visit the Italian city of Florence to speak at a meeting of bishops and mayors of the Mediterranean region and to celebrate Mass at the Basilica of the Holy Cross. The visit was also to have included an encounter with refugee families. On Ash Wednesday, the pope had been scheduled to take part in the traditional penitential procession that begins from the Benedictine monastery of St. Anselm on Rome’s Aventine Hill to the Dominican-run Basilica of Santa Sabina, followed by Mass and the distribution of ashes.
Creating ourselves anew during Lent

As they offer their best fruits to the Lord, Moses reminds them to throw off the shackles of sin and enter into a whole new life. They are free at last! Other trials and struggles will come later. Meanwhile, Moses charges them never to forget and never to let their children forget what they had suffered in Egypt, and how God had miraculously led them to freedom.

Well over a thousand years later, Jesus embarks on His journey as messiah and savior, not only of the Jews, but as redeemer of all the people ever born or would be born. The Spirit who had overshadowed Jesus at His baptism at the Jordan now leads Him into the desert for His initial battle with the powers of Evil. Satan seeks to probe any human weakness in His adversary. First, He tempts Jesus to flaunt His power right away. Why not turn stones into bread? Later, Jesus will miraculously feed others, but He refuses to let the devil manage His miracles! Again, Satan tempts Jesus to political power and possessions, and Jesus, the poor and humble teacher, refuses. The last temptation is to pride and fame and glory. Jesus, knowing that His Mission is to win hearts gently through truth and love, refuses to win hero-worship through cheap exhibits. Ultimately, He must drink the cup of suffering to secure victory — and so must we, His followers. Quite soundly beaten, Satan leaves Him — for a while! Angels come and minister to Jesus who is now ready to begin His public ministry.

And how about us? Hopefully, through the liturgy of this first Sunday of Lent, we will begin with joy and energy to create ourselves anew through prayer, discipline, and communal study of the treasure of truth found in Scripture and of the Catholic Church. It may be through Stations of the Cross or special Lenten programs provided by your parish for our spiritual growth that we will truly rise from ashes to create ourselves anew.

A sign of our conversion

Perhaps my favorite Psalm in the Bible is #51. It is the psalm we will pray at Mass on Ash Wednesday.

If you pray the Liturgy of the Hours, you know 51 as the first psalm of Morning Prayer each Friday. The psalm is a lament and a prayer for hope.

You might hear this psalm of King David called the Miserere. That roughly translates as mercy. In King David's case, mercy was the best he could seek from God at that point in his life. That's why he wrote the Psalm. He was miserable. Here’s the abbreviated version of the story. David coveted Bathsheba who was married to Uriah. In fact, David had relations with Bathsheba, and she conceived a child. David, who was a king, devised a scheme to have Uriah killed in a battle and then brought Bathsheba into his court. The details of this dalliance are in 2 Samuel 11 if you want to check it out.

Anyway, God has had enough of David’s shenanigans and sends a messenger to read David the riot act and punish him. Which he did. See why David was miserable?

He, King David, had it all. God made sure David was reminded of that through Nathan the messenger. He had it all and allowed his selfish desires to “spurn the Lord.”

But God was merciful to David as He always is with us.

The section of Psalm 51 that will be our responsory on Ash Wednesday captures the essence of the poem. We will ask God for his mercy, admit our failures and beg God to help us face the rest of our lives in His love.

“A pure heart create for me, O God, put a steadfast spirit within me. Do not cast me away from your presence, nor deprive me of your holy spirit.”

We will leave Mass on Ash Wednesday with a smudge on our forehead. It is a reminder for us of our personal frailty, of our weakness in the face of incredible temptation. There is no rubric that states that ashes need to be worn outside of the Ash Wednesday liturgy, though you'll see many smudged foreheads at work and on the streets that day. We wear ashes as a sign of our inward conversion, and, as the Gospel of the day warns, not a way to gain applause.

Consider this, though. Our dirty foreheads might quietly evangelize our places of work and those we encounter as we travel about.

This symbol of our start of Lent is a reminder that we are starting a journey leading to conversion, purity and intimacy with God. It's something King David knew, and it made him great in God's eyes.

The second Station
Jesus carries His cross

Instead of our regular reflections, throughout this holy season of Lent, the Pontifical Mission Societies of the Diocese of Ogdensburg will be featuring Stations of the Cross.

Please join us in praying together.

These Stations of the Cross were assembled by Maureen Crowley Heil, director of Programs and Development for the Pontifical Mission Societies and the Archdiocese of Boston.

Second Station:
Leader: We adore You, O Christ, and we bless you.
All: Because by your Holy Cross, you have redeemed the world.

Reader: In Tanzania, in East Africa, these young ones reenact Your Way of the Cross, Lord Jesus. We are grateful that there are more children learning to love and follow You every day. Help us to stay faithful, as they do.

Taize, Lenten events planned in Plattsburgh

By Mary Beth Bracy
Contributing Writer

PLATTSBURGH— A Taize prayer service will be held on March 24 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Peter’s Church in Plattsburgh. This popular devotion includes simple songs and chants that are repeated with meditations from Sacred Scripture. It creates an atmosphere of silence and includes time for quiet reflection. Traditionally, veneration of the cross is also included. This year, the Holy Cross parish members who organized the evening are Susan Pombrio, Anita Soltero, Mary Skillan, and Jen Toohill.

Participants are invited to enter the sacred space near the Cross.

“St. Peter’s has been doing this for at least 10 or 15 years,” shared Anita Soltero, one of the event’s planners. “It’s grown in popularity. People look forward to it. They find it very impactful.”

Soltero recalled how Leo and Theresa Giroux came every year up until the last few years when they were unable to get out. They would come up with their walkers to venerate the Cross, she remembered, and it was very moving. Leo and Theresa are now deceased, but their family members continue to come.

“Instead of kissing the Cross in veneration, participants will place a candle before the Cross, representing their prayer intention.”

“We hope that this Taize prayer experience, will introduce another alternative way of praying for people who are not used to contemplative or meditative prayer,” Soltero said. “Our hope is that people will recognize the power of this prayerful environment and to really enter into it; that is what Taize prayer is all about. It’s powerful.”

“I have attended Taize prayer up in Montreal but last year was my first time helping to plan and participating in a service,” added Skillan. “I enjoyed the experience very much. It is a beautiful, peaceful way of prayer.”

“This year for Lent — in addition to the other daily Masses in Plattsburgh — there will be a 6:30 p.m. Mass at St. Peter’s, Monday through Thursday. However, on March 24, the Taize service will be held instead.”

“We invite everyone to come experience the peace and calm this type of prayer can bring, while entering into the mystery of the Cross,” Soltero said.

“Last year, due to COVID, the service was recorded. The prayer service was offered for the intention of the end to the COVID pandemic. Although any opportunity to gather in-person is preferred, for those who are unable to attend the live service at St. Peter’s this year, the video is still available on the Plattsburgh Catholic Parishes YouTube channel. (Type Plattsburgh Catholic Parishes in the search and scroll down.)”

“I was quite excited for this video to come out,” reflected Nate Pultorak, organist and choir director at Holy Cross Parish, who recorded last year’s event. “I believe it will help draw people into prayer as we get closer to Holy Week. I made sure to incorporate a lot of the religious art that is found at St. Peter’s to help engage people’s sense of sight to help them meditate on what we are praying about.”

Pultorak also included footage of the tabernacle, aglow with a spotlight and candles, murals, and Stations of the Cross throughout the Church.

“We really excited to see the final production. We taped each part separately but left nothing out of the service. Jen Toohill (music teacher at Seton Catholic) was absolutely stunning,” said Pombrio.

“Her voice is what makes our Taize prayer service so intimate,” added Soltero.

Some of the popular Taize chants sung at the service are “Jesus, Remember Me,” “Stay With Me,” “O Lord, Hear My Prayer,” and “Adoramus te Christe.” The chants are repeated almost as one would pray the Holy Rosary.

This form of prayer originated at the village in Taize, France. Brother Roger moved there and helped shelter refugees, including Jews, during World War II. Other young men later joined him in living a communal life of celibacy and simplicity. Their chants, sung in a variety of languages, are popular worldwide.

OTHER LENTEN EVENTS IN PLATTSBURGH

Also during Lent, there will be a Lenten Bible Study on “The Passion and Resurrection Narratives” by Little Rock Scripture Study. Two sessions will be held at the Newman Center in Plattsburgh. The description reads: “Embrace the cross and resurrection this Lent! Jesus’ passion and resurrection gospel stories lie at the core of our Christian faith.” It will be a six-week study of the four Gospel accounts, which reveal the nature of God, the person of Jesus, and the path of every disciple. Attendants may choose between a session on Mondays from 6:30 to 8 p.m. or Wednesdays from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Contact Skillan to register as soon as possible at Mary@holycrossplbg.org or by calling 518-563-0730.

On March 31, at 7 p.m., there will be a concert by a family band called MJM J at Holy Cross Outreach Center (formerly Our Lady of Victory Academy). Good will offerings are accepted. For more information, see the Holy Cross Parish bulletin, accessible through their website at: https://holycrossplbg.org/

There will continue to be 8 a.m. Mass at Our Lady of Victory and 12:05 p.m. Mass at St. Peter’s during Lent. There will also be an extra Mass at 6:30 p.m. at St. Peter’s on Mondays through Thursdays for Lent.

Stations of the Cross will also be held at Holy Cross Parish during Lent on Fridays at 6:30 p.m. They will be held at St. Peter’s on March 4, 11, and 18, and at Our Lady of Victory on March 25 and April 1, 8, and 15.
